I remember once game where the WarFactory and Airstrip blew up, then the GDI refinery blew up and I gained control over the last vehicle in the map (Nod APC), and I drove around the Barracks. I squished so many Stealth Black Hands that it wasn't funny. They just kept coming trying to beacon the Barracks, which never happened. Took them the either game to learn they should try to destroy the APC first. That was one of my personal favorite games, we won too =]
