It's actually Fear Factory.

And the sky is blue because of lightwaves coming from the sky, and due to the properties of the blue wavelength, it gets shattered by the water droplets in the atmosphere. There's a shit load more about why sunset/rise is reddish, but I won't go into that.

Opeth had two albums that were recorded at the same time but released at different times. One of the albums was Damnation, what was the other called?
