O.K mouse, but there is one more mission (I forgot which one, and I am too lazy to look) that has same tip as I sayd in my first post, and in that mission, there is no hotwire. So either there has to be another way, or I don't know.

One more thing, will someone normally and straight forward explain to me answers to my questions? From what I heard so far is that AI soldiers just lock onto you and shoot. O.K, But with snipers it has to be different, because as I sayd, they sometimes don't hit you, sometimes hit you, and sometimes kill you in one shot, so I guess it is just random, right?
