Well, all we have so far is a test map and a couple skins, and a couple models.

We only have 2 skimmers and a modeler so far and we're working on a bunch of skins and a couple models.. but we still do need help

So far we have a skin picture released, basically a simple skin of a Nod Soldier. We also have a pic the model for the hunter-seeker droid released on our forums.

We have 1 picture of the deathmatch map, basically a test map to tryout our unit's progress and have fun with it.

"nothing else that a bad skin for renegade infantry... I don't call that a mod... well... we will see..."
These are only our first steps of the mod, the texture might not be as good as you're textures, but they will come along. The mod has only be in progress for a month and right now we're concentrating on ideas and getting more people into the mod. I will release more of our progress soon.

PermaGrin- once you're free just post on the mod's forums.

I will release more updates on this thread soon..
