
Subject: GMail Invites

Posted by NHJ BV on Mon, 30 Aug 2004 08:32:02 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

glyde51why would any one want a e-mail account with google? www.googlewatch.org is a site telling everyone what google really wants- my cheese

I do not really care. All Google does is scan all your email with some program, then serves ads that match the keywords in your mail...at worst you may get ads that are actually interesting

Anyway, no live human gets to see your mail. And even if they do, your ISP can read your mail too.
