Guys maybe it might be wise to add a sticky post at the top of the mod forum or headlines like on the old WWS forums to modding resources? When people do ask a lot of questions similar or easilt answered we normally see the same people posting links to their tutorials in response to the persons question. The post should include the most common modding resources that people may find useful. I can list a few that i can remember that may be of use to start the post off:

RenHelp 1.9

Stonerook's FAQ

<http://www.laeubi.de/tutorials>

<http://www.nodnl.net>

<http://www.wildfiregames.com/insurrection/tutorials.shtml>

<http://modx.renevo.com/forumdisplay.php?s=bdabf0909523fcd9604607a4c3a2332d&forumid=10>

Dante, you may want to set the Mod Exchange to show all posts instead of the ones from the last 30 days as this hides some of the useful stuff and unless you know they we're there you would think that the ModX has decreased in size.
