That is the most complicated method I've ever read. There are many much easier ways for a SBH with a nuke to get onto the GDI base in City Flying and still have a very high success rate of the nuke going off - depending on your experience of where to place the nukes.

I have a very high success rate. I usually spend more time on the GDI base as a SBH w/nuke than I do spend time on Nod base (even in a 40+ player game). it's all about timing & patience
