For starters, allow it to carry five passengers in addition to the pilot, instead of three... (That could also be applied to the APC of course...) If it isn't shot down, a chinook full of engis = remotes = building destruction in a flash.

Won't work everytime since the Chinook will get shot down if the enemy is organised. But that sounds like a tactic should be in Renegade... Won't work every time, but when it does work, destruction guaranteed.
