I've never seen a 12 year old that acts like we do here in these forums. I have, however, seen 12 years olds that feign superiority and go around calling people idiots because the individuals targeted don't act the way that person wants them to.

You don't even know why I attack Reborn, do you? If you did perhaps your opinion would change a bit and you wouldn't automatically judge me and others because you weren't around to understand why we're doing this.

Maturity is subjective, kid. Try not to pretend that your standard of maturity is universal.
