There is no point in complaining when you have had about 4 years to complain. Now it is too late because Renegade will soon be dead when the Renegade community dies. Many people are saying how Renegade is "getting boring". People are leaving and as someone said most of the people buying the game are 12 year olds going "mom look at this cool game in the bargain bin!"/ And almost half of the people here in the forums don't play Renegade anymore, including me. But I guess there are those who do care about these sort of topics. But hey, you will never stop hackers in Renegade, there are too many and not enough people to care. "THIS IS JUST MY OPINION"

Says the guy who not too long ago made a site called "RenGen" and bought a server to put on Renegade.

My my, these grapes are SOUR, ain't they.
