Personally, I have mine set at "Cable Modem," but I'm debating knocking it back further, to ISDN, even though I have more than enough bandwidth on this side to use "Cable Modem".

Did either of you notice what is connection speed was.

2.2mbps connection

Firstly i dont know where we get the 0.2 from. Also, setting it to LAN/T1 will surely sort out all his problems, apart from his chronic back pain.
