#1. He didn't even ask for people to join it.

#2. If I was clanless, it doesn't matter to me if they can't type properly. It would be by how good* they are.

*meaning skill, attitude, teamwork.

and Gbull - No, I didn't join any of them by browsing forums. I don't particularly agree with advertising it on a forum at all. That doesn't mean that when I saw certain gse typing in-game and how some of them (being euro's and all) not typing well, that it made me not want to join. Neither did it when I talked to people who were Americans and typed 1337/badly (which is all-too-common anyways) I figure it's a game and is not meant to be considered.
