You still fail to understand. Imagine it like a water filtering system.

- * You have the big river bringing water into the city. (This is ALL Renegade players)
- * The city filters out all the dirt, most particles, bacteria, fungi, etc. before it gets to your house. (This is RenGuard)
- * You install a filter in your fridge which removes the last remaining impurities before the water comes out of the door and into your glass. (This being moderators, logging, tests)

Now what would happen if you eliminated the city filtering? Easy! Your little filter in your fridge would fill up with sludge and be useless very quickly.

Bottom line? Use RenGuard as your preliminary filter and greatly reduce the number of cheaters you have to find manually.
