

---

Subject: Re: Are We All Racist, To Some Degree?
Posted by \$c0p3 on Fri, 10 Mar 2006 14:46:45 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Hydra wrote on Thu, 26 January 2006 23:47 Unfortunately, those parents and their children have a right to their free speech and freedom of expression and beliefs; it would be hypocritical for the government to oppress them for their beliefs. Such is the unfortunate consequence of living in a free nation.

That doesn't mean we can't publicly humiliate and ridicule them and utterly destroy their public image and reputation, though.

Actually, everyone is also entitled to maintain or secure their dignity or w/e. You're not allowed to humiliate people, according to the charter of rights (I'm talking about Canada though, but it should be the same in the USA). So basically, you've got a freedom of expression, but only to a certain degree. You're technically not allowed to insult people or bring them down or anything.

---