It's all based on the number of people in game over two minutes. Also it's proportional to amount of the game you played. Even though it'll never happen lets say it's a 20v20 and everyone loads right from the get go. Team A wins, the last player gets 0 points, 2nd last gets 1, then 3, then 6,10,15,21,28,36,45,55 and so on. It has nothing to do with the size of the server, just on how many people were in and out of the server on the winning team throughout the duration of the game.
