The ideal spot for gunner to point where would be angled enough so only the wrist&up of the HON is visible, and backed up enough so that giant rock to the left gives him cover. Ideally, he's untouchable. I've done it several times, and lives because if a sniper wants to attack while I'm there, they lose their greatest advantage--their range.

Alright, then I'll just get an F'ing APC. APC > Gunner. Assuming equal skill.
