Whats all the talk of cheating anyway? The creater of this thread isn't cheating online, in multiplayer practice, or in single player. So what's with all the spam?

Getting a templar when you but a SBH or chemwarrior or anything isn't cheating. 1.) Some servers use extras, offlines you can use extras and get these. 2.) There are online servers with mods that make these kind of changes, like getting a mutant when you buy a certain character. Also his obejects.ddb mod probably has only serverside changes to it(I can determine by what he likes to mod). Also he wouldn't play it online anyway.

All I know is he is modding and not making cheats so he can cheat. So changing this whole thread around was very stupid of you guys. Answering his question is where you should keep it to.

aaaalex06 no using game2.exe is not bypassing renguard and is completly ok always. By the means of bypassing renguard they mean doing something that allows cheats in your data folder and be using/or apear to be using renguard at the time.

Using game2.exe to play without renguard is never bypassing renguard and is sometimes needed to do by some people.

Have fun modding.
