He tells me I got ripped of hardcore, and that I should eat the 100 buck deposit, and build one myself with his help...

I guess, back to the drawingboard with regards to building system using some of my old components.

Only 900 bucks now though

Well, didn't we just tell you too that machine was a piece of shit?   Don't worry though, with the components you already have you can still buy yourself a killer gaming machine for the 900 bucks...
