If it's the loading screen your talking about ya, what everyone else said above. In the first Core Patch, they replaced the text with info on the new maps they've added, but they got a few complaints and put it back to normal... but without the text. I think it's just a bug they forgot to fix but nothing big. The game loads really fast that you dont' even get to read the boring text . Though, if it's another thing than the loading screen, tell us.
