As RenX said, Conroes do not run hot, which is the reason you can overclock the E6400 to over 3Ghz with the stock cpu cooler. Conroes use way less power than AMD and other Intel processors.

That being said, I still got the ASUS "Silent Stack" cooler, just to make sure I have no problems Even with the coin in the picture for reference, the photo still does not truly reflect just how huge that cooler is...holding it in your hand it like holding a loaf of bread or a pineapple.
