First link gives 404.

This is what it looks like in iexplorer 7 for me:

The screenshot shows a website with a yellow and black striped banner at the top. The banner has the letters 'DCOM' in a large, bold, sans-serif font. Below the banner, the word 'Welcome!' is displayed in a large, bold, blue font. To the right of 'Welcome!', a smaller text reads 'To the official website of DCOM Productions. DCOM is owned and operated by...'. Below this, there are several navigation links: 'Updates' with a clock icon, 'News' with a globe icon, and 'Administrator' with a user icon. To the right of these links is a 'User Authentication' section with fields for 'Alias' and 'Password', and a 'Log In' button. Below this section are links for 'Register an account' and 'Forgot your password?'. Further down the page, there is a 'RANT!' section with text about finals and snow, and a 'December 20, 2006' section with a note about the website being under construction.

Welcome! To the official website of DCOM Productions. DCOM is owned and operated by...

RANT! I was ready to take my semester finals today, but mothernature all of her snow on Colorado. I woke up this morning to find out that school canceled, not just mine too, the entire district. So, I have an extra day to do around the house and study for finals. I guess I can't really complain, I have rather taken my finals today than stay home.

The website is under construction

The website is under heavy development right now. Currently there are problems in the table designs. I am having a lot of trouble with the Visual Studio Designer. When I do get the designer and table layout working, I will be able to complete the site. I am currently working on the forums and news section. I will be adding more sections as time goes on.
