Make sure you place the card in perfectly straight, not at any angle. Make sure the little tab on the backplate isn't stopping the card from being inserted.

You many need to push the card firmly into place, but do not use exessive force.

Thanks, but I have 3 PCI slots and have tried them all, just checked to be sure and it's not a PCI-e slot, nor is the soundcard a PCI-e. I'm baffled, I guess I'll keep trying. Any further help would be appreciated.
