Apparently with the new RenGuard installer, it doesn't create an entry in the Add/Remove programs list. It would be fantastic if someone could write an uninstaller or repack the current one so that it creates the entry.

In the meantime, I'm affixing the old 1.03 installer (it's the original and completely unmodified in any way) that does create the entry. If someone can figure out a way to use that to uninstall RenGuard, please post what you did here so that others can use it (I'm not going to touch the new one with a ten-foot pole since the old one works just fine).

After uninstalling, you can reinstall using this one and letting RenGuard update itself to the latest version.
