This guy has WAY more time than I do, and I'm on vacation. I took the wiki offline until I can sort it, upgrade it, and change up the permissions so not everyone can make those kinds of changes. Isn't it pathetic how someone can take a project that has been a whole community effort and deface it like that?