Subject: Re: The meaning of life?
Posted by Jecht on Sun, 12 Aug 2007 05:28:57 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

mrpirate wrote on Fri, 10 August 2007 18:39religion, in my eyes, is unnecessary and divisive; I don't think the world would suffer if people realized how ridiculous it is

Wait, you think God doesn't exist because he's unnecessary? Hillary Clinton is unnecessary in my eyes, to bad the that logic doesn't follow the same suit. :/

Besides, the world would be better off in my opinion if they practiced ANY kind of religion that was good at it's core. Maybe then there would be substantially less rape, murder, and overall loose morality.

While I see the arguement that religion can and has been used as a vessel to vie for control over people on a spiritual and/or idealistic level in some cases, don't blame God for those instances and then claim he doesn't exist just because you see him as unnecessary.