Subject: Unable to get a list of master servers

Earlier today I was trying to open up Renegade. When I tried to open the game, the Renguard window popped up as usual, but then it immediately disappeared and the message "Failed to receive list of available master servers. Check your internet connection" came up. Now, this was strange because I haven't done anything unusual with my computer, and Renguard was working yesterday evening. I tried restarting, closing down my firewall, but none of this worked. My internet is obviously fine, so I'm not sure what the problem is. I'm not that computer savvy, so it could be something very simple for all I know. Any ideas?
