Subject: Renegade Configuration Settings

Renegade seems to adapt its own set of configuration settings, and because of that I am stuck at 640x400 resolution and windowed mode. The config screen popped up when I ran Renegade a moment ago, I welcomed the opportunity to change my view to windowed mode because I had turned V-Sync off in the BHS.dll settings. Now, however, the config screen won't pop up again, and the accessible one from the start menu doesn't seem to affect the game at all. How can I change the config settings through RenGuard again?\

Thanks
