So according to you, Mario, Sonic, Solid Snake and Donkey Kong are all japanime charaters?
I suppose so.

Thats strange, I thought they were video game characters. I guess we have all been kidding ourselves the whole time.

Most games have animated characters. Not characters from movies or shows, but the characters are really animated.. they just move around. So... anime.

I don't think i ever heard people say that it is anime, but never heard people say that it isn't. Nobody just really thinks about it.
