1 Corinthians 6:9

" 9Do you not know that the wicked will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived: Neither the sexually immoral nor idolaters nor adulterers nor male prostitutes nor homosexual offenders 10nor thieves nor the greedy nor drunkards nor slanderers nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God."

So no, While Jesus does indeed love all of us, he draws a line in who will, and won't inherit eternity with him.

Our response should be to turn away from these evils, repent and follow his ways and instructions.

And for you OT quasi-theologians: The OT was abolished when Jesus died and instituted the new covenant. Paul tells us that the "what was written" ie the OT is for our edification and instruction but makes it clear we are no longer bound by it or its laws.

And before someone brings up the thief on the cross: Jesus promised him paradise BEFORE he died (and thus under the OT Covenant of Moses) and instituted the New Covenant so he didn't have to be baptised per Acts 2:38. The OT was to make Israel aware of sin, not save them. Jesus and the sacrifice he made are the redemptive work and everything in the OT was in preparation for and fulfillment of that one act.
