Subject: Re: System failure.
Posted by CarrierII on Tue, 16 Oct 2007 07:11:41 GMT

0x0000007B happens when Windows tries to find devices under it's saved set of PnP enumarations and can't. That would happen in this case, due to the chipsets being different. You can migrate a hard disk with XP on it between any Intel chipset, AFAIK (Try it!)