

---

Subject: Re: UK > US

Posted by Memphis on Sun, 18 Nov 2007 15:05:27 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

The Merovingian wrote on Sun, 18 November 2007 09:31^

My point EXACTLY!

"Which state does Kentucky Fried Chicken originate?"

".... I have no idea...."

"Where is the Berlin Wall?"

"....."

Can you see what i mean now?

To be fair you can find people with that much of a lack of knowledge anywhere if you look hard enough. The only thing I will say is that I feel the UK is a lot more measured with what it says concerning happenings around the globe. In comparison the USA demands this or that to happen effectively taking up the role of world bully. You can mock a lot of American people for knowing nothing about the outside world but perhaps you would be the same if you lived in a country as large as it is. It would be nice for America to really concentrate on its economy and extreme debt instead of putting an immeasurable amount of resources in the war on terror.

---