Used Ebay and Paypal. I used to find it a little bit scary but that's just because my parents were scared and they always were like: "never buy something on the internet!". Most big shops are as safe as it can get when it comes to receiving stuff, I bought a CPU secondhanded once, (It was broken) the guy send me a good one in return). Though I would not buy anything else on the internet like clothing, as nothing comes to touching the real stuff, and see if it fits.
