Crimsonwarranto They look great! They just don't seem to fit the n00bstories layout though. They're too vibrant compared to the sites blander look.

Hey, I like simple. It makes it easier to get around and find what you're looking for. It will look much better when I finish the redesign.

However cool those banners are, I would prefer to hold strict to the Nod/GDI theming and those banners, color-wise, are team-neutral.

Don't mean to insult the your choice in layouts. I was just comparing the layout you use (which works just fine, no complaints from me) to the extravegant layout ADM used. And as the two are right now, they don't mix well with all the colors ADM used and the lack of colors you use (once again, no insult to your choice intended).
