Well the hiding behind the air strip works almost everytime for me and yes a single solider COULD stop you but if you have like 4 enggie you can get away because most likely the only go for one. Anyway I also ment that they not to stand still when they get across the first tiberium just to keep going and shooting the reapiir gun at them. Or if you are GDI go down into the tunnel and take a right and then come out the side entrance (just as fast) and then cross the last tib field next to air.
