The advantage to surrendering is that u still live, u just dont get killed. Your team comes saves you (most of the time), and 60% of the time u survive, but if your team is n00bish and doesnt come very quickly it gets boring just sitting there in prison, unless you are daring enough to take on your captors. When you pull out your gun you better have it loaded (i once pulled out my gun and i had to reload, which then my captor shot me).The best character to escape with is a sniper, u can just pull out your gun and shoot them in the head.
