

---

Subject: Re: Something Bad Happen? No worry! Just sue a company!

Posted by warranto on Wed, 21 May 2008 20:36:20 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Heh, I'm a Philosophy major at university... it's hard for me to get out of that mode.

Quote:You make your choices, and you live with them

Believe me, I am the first to push for this.

Quote:Denial is a stage of grief, and part of a perfectly normal coping mechanism

True, but its not always a case of denial, but the intention to fight on and survive... even if the odds are against you. A standard argument against "dying early" regardless of the means or reasons is that a cure for what you have may be found tomorrow. Give up now and you will assuredly die... hold of and fight on to survive another day and you may live.