The soundfiles used by the script, players should place these in their data folder to be able to hear "Hostage recued" sounds etc.

The DLL files that people can use in Leveledit:

<http://ren.game-maps.net/index.php?act=view&id=1254>

The Server files for SSGM 2.0.2 with hostage mode scripts added

<http://ren.game-maps.net/index.php?act=view&id=1255>

z_Hostage (To be sticked on objects that are the hostage)

z_Hostage_Controller (To be sticked on an APC for example)

z_Hostage_Rescue_Zone (To be sticked on a Script_Zone_All)

Have fun!

Here is an example map for leveledit to look at how the scripts should be used:

another hostage map example M01:

edit: To load the map in your leveleditor copy the M01.ddb to your presets folder and rename it to temps20.ddb
