This 1v1-thing is stupid: you really think Troop would have left the forum if u had won? He would've gone "kkkkkkkkkk I'm staying anyway".

It's never an easy decision to ban someone. One of the key elements you should remember is that Troop has had many and clear warnings before. This includes a temporary ban.

A 2nd element that's of importance: Troop is in my opinion not the retarded person he made out to be. As I said before: he showed that he can make intelligent posts. He chooses his behaviour to piss off people and that makes him worse than all the other people here.

He also knew this was coming, but choose not to change his ways or lay down. It's nothing more or less than pure provocation.
