linkin90I don't think this is a hoax due to the officialness of the post, most people who have hoaxes sound like dumbasses and its obvious, also, ive seen a couple people brought up a possible patch in other forums, but everyone just flamed them

Just some advice for future happenings in your life. Never base something off of how "official" it sounds. Many proffesional scammers as well as others involved with legal business can make "official" sounding statements that can hide the truth or scam you out of your possessions.
