I still like Nintendo, but I don't like how they are dealing less and less with their hardcore community. That's why I switched my preference to actual hardcore games to the Xbox. I don't like the PS3 because I think it is a waste of money. All it is is just an expensive mesh of gadgets I am paying extra money for that I won't ever use. If I bought a PS3, it would be for playing games, not having any of its extra useless junk. I'm not going to use/buy a Blu-ray player until DVDs are obsolete, that's how I switched to DVD from VHS and it worked fine, as players will be cheap by then. I have a PSP, but I use it more as an MP3 player than anything.

I prefer gaming on consoles, but that doesn't mean I don't like games on the PC. RTS games are meant for the PC, unless specifically designed for a console, like Halo Wars.
