well, idk the specifics, but if an animal you own TRESPASSES on someone else's yard, it is ileagl, and the control has to follow the law. It's the other person's fault for pressing charges or what ever. I really don't think we are talking about what i mean. I meant to say animal "PROTECTION", but animal control is more in it for the money, and give the animals away to animal "SHELTERS", or kill them but still, do you like it?
