I don't really see the point of Renguard anymore...

It only stops the really stupid cheaters. Everyone else who wants to cheat can easily bypass it..

Now that, on top of it's client issues (like it exiting Renegade every 10 mins) just make it annoying.

My advise would be to just play stock Renegade. Don't load it up on mods, like Renguard, unless you are fully prepared to deal with all the negative affects that they bring.

Most servers no longer require Renguard anymore, nor do people (or most people, I should say) care that you aren't running Renguard. Therefore, the smartest thing to do, in your case, would to just play Renegade on its own. Don't bother with Renguard.

Cheat protection will come in time with the new patch that's being made.
