funny, how the reactions go the this:

and this part:
"all, what the fuck is the point of making stuff just for yourself? Shouldn't your goal be to share it with other people?"
is getting ignored...
