I got a 91 gmc sierra 1500 v8 Chevy 350 and i like it a lot. It don't get great gas millage but it has power but its only a half ton tho. I grew up on a farm so I wont buy anything that doesn't have 4wd.

you can buy a chip where you can adjust your engines emission controls , spark timing and gas mixtures. you can set to giving you more horsepower or better gas millage. gmc/chevy started putting computer's in their vehicles I think in 89 or 84.
