no, that's just the KIND OF THING i talk about, in a completely logical and civilised way, before your community go apeshit on me for no reason.

perhaps you'd like to ask the same question about the pointsfix? i certainly hope not, for your own sake.

or how about what happened when i said "actually, no i don't cheat" in response to two of your moderators publicly claiming that i did (two and a quarter if you count joetorp as well). you joined in the lynching that time, if you remember... in response to a post of mine which can hardly be considered offensive.

or how about when i blew the whistle on msgtpain because he was lying to everybody (again) about me... my posts were deleted and i got a ban threat, whereas his ridiculous lies about me were allowed to stand and i wasn't permitted to defend myself.
