KIRBY098EnglandThe lovely comment you highlighted was directed at olddust, i know the information on what happened, thats what i was saying. I have no involvement with the attack.

Regardless of who it was directed at, it shows that there is a serious problem with conflicts of interests over there.

And how is that?

All I can see is that England was wrong in how he (HE NOT Refering to england) got the passwords to msgtpain's nicknames

Oh wait, you knew that didn't you

Have you been to our forums laityly? (other then last year)?

You should read some of the posts that are there before you go out blasting shit
