I also want to express my disappointment towards jnz who made this possible. It's not because you found a girlfriend and stopped caring about Renegade that you should spread source code without thinking. It shows a lack of respect towards a lot of people in this community.

Actually, anyone capable of changing my code to cheat with is easily capable of changing shaders.dll to show the hud. The code code that I have written is not -any- diffrent to the code that is already in shaders.dll.
