YazooGang wrote on Fri, 06 November 2009 14:27 I didnt read through all the replies but this is how you adjust how many points you earn by damaging an object.

So, what you do is goto level editor, then you select a preset in the objects tree and hit Mod. A windows comes up and you hit the Settings tab. And there are alot of options. Looking at this picture will explain what options you would need to change in order to get different amount of points when you kill or damage an object.

Thanks but that problem had already been solved. I will add "solved" to the questions that has already been solved.

But pictures make it very clear so this will sure help others. Who might be wondering where in level edit the "damegepoints" is located
