You can't remove it while your in game it still shows up, only other way he could do that is by using *cheat name removed*witch he would be able to turn off the skin's aimbot etc.

OK this dude joined st0rm witch they are talking about banning him, he joins play's 3 games and sucks always at the bottom of the list of players he leaves the 4 and joins back in on the 5 and is the top ranking player just by sniping? looks to me he went and turnec them on.

St0rm say's he is clear but i have a video of him doing it he says that he is using a glitch that you can tell where the sbh's are at all times, like u highlight harv then move ur mouse around till it stops highlighting the harv and there is your sbh witch i think is stupid and the video looks like the guy just knew where he was because he was talking to him.

And most people that kill sbhs like that and are able to get hs's on sbh's without knowing where they are, there is 2 things *cheat name removed*or a no stealth skin, makes it so the sbh never goes stealth in there screen, just like in mod forums how they got the snipers to look like a sbh not stealthed.
