Subject: Re: Secondary Monitor and Vid Card Question
Posted by Wiener on Fri, 29 Jan 2010 08:05:36 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I'm sorry mate, I had a typo there: meant you shouldn'T run

The problems I had were related to displaylink stuff and individual desktop wallpapers for each

Anyway: I think those displayed resolutions on windows settings will change once you installed your screen.
However, it seems you will not use any higher resolution anyway. 1440x900 if you get a normal 19" widescreen. As said: i dont know your vid card but it probably cant handle much more (especially for gaming)